In a session that lasted close to midnight last night, the city council decided to take no plebiscite on the street numbering proposition; arranged to take up the gas question in detail at a special meeting to be held on Thursday afternoon and later to take a plebiscite on municipal versus corporation gas; concluded to make no change at present in the relation between the power house and the electric light and power departments; ordered gates at railway crossings on First street and Namayo, Syndicate and White avenues and lights and signs at all other crossings within the city; decided to prohibit autos from pass-

The reading of a letter from W. H. Clegg, chairman of the public meet-

"In view of the fact that this council has approved of the new scheme, and has voted $5000 for it—," began Alderman Livingstone.

"Where's that?" asked Alderman East.

"In the supplementary estimates," replied Alderman Livingstone. "I find $5000 in the new money has been sent already. The council approved of the scheme months ago. If a public meeting is held, I can easily suppose a dozen would have attended—"

"I'd like a meeting then," remarked the mayor, "and you and I attend."

Livingstone Unchanged.

"I feel," continued Alderman Livingstone, "that I can stand my ground on this matter after 90 per cent.

of the work has been completed. I would therefore move that this council reapprove of the system now being put into force, and that the city solicitor be instructed to take all necessary steps to quash the existing injunction."

Alderman Lundy spoke against the new street numbering scheme. He thought that it would be very fine in the case of a regular survey, but contended that in new subdivisions where the streets were being laid out

Complimentary remarks were made by the spectators with regard to the prompt work of the fire brigade. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought that the stove became overheated.

FOUR HUNDRED MINERS PERISH IN EXPLOSION IN COAL MINE NEAR CARDIFF, WALES

OF THE NINE HUNDRED MEN COMPRISING DAY SHIFT LESS THAN FIVE HUNDRED RESCUED

Terrific Explosion Occurred an Hour After Shift Had Descended Pit—Officials of the Colliery Hold Out No Hope of Rescue of the Remainder of the Men in Mine—Fire Follows Explosion.

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 14.—More than 400 Welsh coal miners perished, it is believed, from fire and after-damp, in the Universal Colliery, near here, today. A terrific explosion shattered the works shortly after 8:30 a.m. had descended the pit.

It was at first stated that the day shift was composed of 740 men, but later the larger figure was given out by the officials. About five hundred were brought to the surface by rescue parties up to noon, and the manager of the mines then expressed the opinion that there was no further hope for those remaining below. The rescued miners, the numbers of fifty-eighting gangs, and the officials of the mine declared this afternoon that they could hold out no hope for those of the 14 miners still below.

The men brought to the surface were found on the east side of the mine, where the ventilation remained fairly good. On the west side, where the explosion occurred, fire started, and the rescue parties were unable to make any progress.

The officials of the mine found it necessary to call a detachment of police to keep back the women and children, who crowded around the entrances in the hope of obtaining some news of their relatives.

Most of the rescued men were suffering from burns, shocks or the effects of poisonous gas.

The day shift descended in cages at five o'clock. An hour afterward a deafening report brought the inhabitants in the vicinity of the mine running to the pit head, where they found that the ventilating and hoisting machinery, at the top of the shaft, had been blown to atoms by an explosion of great violence.

A man who had been working sixty feet away had been decapitated by the force of the blast.

Rescue parties of miners belonging to the night shift were soon on the scene making preparations to enter the mine in an endeavor to save their comrades. The heavy reputation of the mine gave them little hope that any of those below could be rescued alive. An entrance was forced by way of an adjacent shaft. On descending the rescuing parties came across several groups of men huddled together in portions of the mine where the air was still good. By noon they had picked up and brought to the surface also 500.

The same pit was the scene of an explosion thirteen years ago, when 120 miners lost their lives. Only one of those below at that time was rescued alive.

All the men on the east side of the mine reached the surface by four o'clock, but 418 were still in the workings in the west side, which were on fire.

Two Men Drowned in Kootenay.
Nelson, Oct. 14.—An overturned boat, in which were a judge and fishing basket, found floating in the Kootenay river near the rapids, was evidence of what police believe to be a double drowning tragedy. James Williamson, owner of the boat, and Nelson Iron Works, manager in the Nelson Iron Works, and a companion, whose name is unknown, were seen taking near when the boat was found and are believed to be drowned. Williamson was 51 years old and came to Nelson 12 years ago from Fort Arthur. He leaves a wife in Nelson, a son in San Francisco and other children in Liverpool.

MRS. PANKHURST TO BE DETAINED WHEN SHE LANDS

British Suffragette Leader Can Not Gain Entrance to U. S. Without Struggle

MANY PROTESTS FROM PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS

A Special Board Will Decide Whether Her Record Constitutes Moral Turpitude

Washington, Oct. 14.—When Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant British suffragette arrives on the liner La Provence this week, probably Friday, she will be detained at the Ellis Island immigration station, according to present plans, until a special board of inquiry can determine whether she comes under the class of aliens excluded from the United States.

While the immigration authorities have issued no order for her detention, scores of protests against her admission, lodged with immigration headquarters here and with the local authorities at New York, leave no other course open to the immigration authorities.

No Protest From Antis.

Officials here say no protest against Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant British suffragette, has been received from the society opposed to woman suffrage or from any of its members on behalf of the organization. An equal number of communications protesting against her exclusion have been received. The controversy which has been stirred up in advance of her landing, has created a situation which no single immigration official would attempt to settle, and no course remains but to detain the British leader until her case can be passed upon by a board of review, as would be done in the case of any other despised landing.

A record of Mrs. Pankhurst's activities, her arrests and imprisonment has been furnished to the authorities at New York. Upon that, and upon a hearing, the immigration authorities will decide if the English suffragette leader's acts have been such as to render her from the United States. A principal question to be determined will be if the result of her court record and jail sentence in the cause of women's rights is a moral turpitude within the meaning of the immigration law.

The board of trade is to discuss the advisability of an elected commission of city government. At the regular monthly meeting of the board of trade yesterday, the commission suggested that the full board consider the advisability of sending a resolution to the mayor and council asking that a plebiscite be taken to elect the five members of the board of trade to the city government. The subject of government of the city by some form of elective commission. Owing to the rather thin attendance yesterday, H. Milton Martin suggested that a special meeting of the board be called to discuss this and other items of civic government. President Cooper is to call this meeting at an early date.

Another resolution that was approved reads as follows: "That the board of trade fully realize the great value of suburban lines of transportation in the building of a city, and respectfully urge the mayor and city council to take every action to effect some arrangement with the Interurban Railway Company which will afford protection to the city's interests, whereby that company will be enabled to at once construct its lines and quick changes of base."

Opinion of Foreign Attaches.

ALBERT SEVIGNY, M.P. (Conservative for Vancouver)
The estimate of receipts and expenditure for the province of Alberta for the year 1914 were tabled in the House by the Premier yesterday afternoon showing an estimated surplus of receipts over expenditure of $1,217,220, as compared with a total estimated surplus during the current year of $1,217,220.

The total estimated receipts for the year 1914 are $2,513,340, as compared with $1,343,120, the estimated revenue for the current year. The total estimated expenditure is $1,343,120 for the year 1914, as compared with $1,343,120, the estimated expenditure for the current year.

The amount of the expenditure proposed for this year largely on account of the fact that telephone expenditures this year will demand only one million dollars as compared with two millions voted last year, and the fact that interest on the Great Western bonds, which last year was $715,000, does not appear.

One of the most noteworthy features in the estimates this year is the estimated expenditure of $1,343,120 for the year 1914, as compared with $1,343,120, the estimated expenditure for the current year.

In the adjoining columns appear the various items of estimates, receipts and expenditure.

Foreign Experts Declare British Army Is Lamentably Inefficient
Opinions Expressed by Foreign Attaches Regarding Recent Manoeuvres of British Army Differ Widely From Reports Published in English Newspapers

London, Oct. 13.—Opinions of the foreign military attaches on the British army manoeuvres just closed differ widely from the stories printed in the English papers. From reading the London papers one would imagine that the British army in the recent exercises placed the word in military efficiency. The exercises, however, were intended to give training in field transport problems and feature large bodies of men while actively engaged in war operations, requiring rapid movement and quick changes of base.
